Gage E. Tarbell, Second Vice-President of the Equinitic, denied to-day that agents of the company all over the country are descriting it and that the general agents of the company are planning to get control of the directorate through the votes of the policy-holders. He also denied that the salary of his private sec stary, Miss Amendiahas been cut below $12,000.

For the purpose of carrying out the Ryan deed of trust slips are being printed, which are to be used to elect the first seven directors, do not contain the name of any man save those of the three trustees, Alessis, Cleveland, O'Brien and Westinghouse.
